New Offices and New Name Signify Growth Into New Services – As Steadfastness to Principles of Success Remains the Same

Greeley, Colorado, December 12, 2002: H & L Concrete, Inc. announced today that it will begin doing business as Naranjo Civil Constructors, Inc. (Naranjo Civil) as of January 1, 2003. According to Naranjo Civil's management team, the new name better represents the broader scope of civil construction services they offer. The name change also highlights the progressive ownership and business management improvements the company has made over the last several years.

In parallel to the name change, Naranjo Civil will begin operating their business out of two new facilities located at 1863 2nd Avenue, Greeley, Colorado, 80631. The new facilities offer an expanded storage yard, expanded equipment repair facilities, and the infrastructure to accommodate the increase in office and management personnel. All phone and fax numbers shall remain the same with little to no interruption.

Naranjo Civil Constructors, Inc. has taken the growth and success of the past few years and built a team of people and resources more ready to embark upon an expanded mission. No longer just a concrete construction company, Naranjo Civil, has built a diversified project portfolio based on technically complex structural concrete, flatwork concrete, drainageway construction, stormwater construction, road reconstruction, irrigation, and minor utility projects.

Naranjo Civil focuses on serving the Public sector with a straight-forward, problem-solving approach to civil construction. As a General Contractor, or a specialty subcontractor, Naranjo Civil aims to partner with the Owner or General Contractor in innovating ideas and building solutions.
